On the occasion of the annual celebration of International Women’s Day (8 March), UISG is organizing a conference to share reflections and experiences on how women – especially religious women – contribute to the empowerment of other women through research and action.

Empowerment is a process through which people, organizations and communities gain expertise in their lives in relation to resources, limits and possibilities. This enables them to be agents of change in their own context - the vast field of education and formation – in order to promote equity and quality of life for individuals, communities, and peoples.

Two events promoted by Pope Francis will guide us during this meeting: the Economy of Francesco, a meeting of young entrepreneurs that will take place in Assisi, November 21 and the Global Compact on Education scheduled for 14 May.

Economy and Education will be the two main areas for discussion during the day.

LANGUAGES: English, Spanish, French, Italian

The meeting will take place at the UISG Centre for Religious Life Regina Mundi, Lungotevere Tor di Nona, 7 – Rome
